The Evolution of Veterinary Practice Management

HVMS Imagery is quickly becoming a mainstay of veterinarian practices, and the ability to access images within a medical record is the new standard.

- HVMS communicates with digital image modalities, PACS and standard image viewing software programs
- HVMS allows images to be viewed within the software program, and directly tied to a practice's existing workflow
- HVMS Worklisting allows direct communication between your practice's calendar and patient databases to your modalities, solving the problem of dual entry of patient information and reducing human error
